

INDEX

TO THE

HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-SEVENTH VOLUME OF THE QUARTERLY REVIEW.

A.

Aberdeen, Lord, coalition with the Whigs, 537.

Achillini, exponent of the Averroism philosophy, 501 — experienced debater, 508 — personal appearance, ib.

Adams, Rev. H. C., 'Wykehamica,' 372.

Alexander, Emperor of Russia, succeeds to the throne, 419 — his character, ib. — policy towards France, 420 — changes his opinion of Napoleon, 421 — withdraws Oubril and his staff, 422 — scheme for a general coalition, ib. — accepts the Prussian alliance, 424 — threatened with invasion, 426 — interviews with Napoleon, 428, 436 — instructions to Tolstoi, 432 — discussions with Caulaincourt, 433 — advice from Talleyrand, 437 — his relations with Austria, 440.

Allectus defeated, 337.

America, The Discovery of, 1 — the old-world mariners, 8, 9 — theories and conjectures of Aristotle and others, 9-12, 15 — due to trade-winds and currents, 13 — Columbus's plan, 15 — Portuguese explorations, 16 — Genoese discoveries, 17 — number of expeditions, 22 — errors in uniting Asia and America, 23 — various explorers, 25, 27 — narrow compass of exploration, 26 — unlicensed expeditions, ib. — foundation of the name, 31 — the Gulf of Mexico, 32 — Revolution of 1775, 37 — development under the English, 38 — independence and progress of the New World, 39 — the system of self-government, 304 — the Constitution, 305 — restrictions, 305, 307 — originality, 306 — system of 'rotation,' 308 — type of the 'industrial' system, ib. — important results, 309 — 'distrust of the individual,' 310 — the spread of corruption, 311 — nature of the plébiscite, ib. — meaning of 'Democracy,' 312 — evils of corruption, ib. — growing combinations, 314 — views of the States out West, ib. — the work of 'private enterprise,' 316 — public school training, 317 — Universities, ib. — individual benevolence, 318 — freedom a negative condition, ib. — advance in art and civilization, 319 — extinction of slavery, ib. — establishment of a polity, 320 — superiority in morals, ib. — influence of Christianity, 321 — literature and Society, 322 — memories of the Declaration of Independence, ib. — the evils of democratic freedom, 323-325 — development of moral suasion, 325 — loyalty to the State, 326 — social progress and independence, ib. — elements of the Constitution, 327.

Ancient Régime, The Fall of the, 212 — meaning of the term, 214.

Andrieux, Mons. L., Prefect of Police, 238 — his account of the secret agents, ib. — difficulties in the employment of political spies, 239.

Archer, T. A., attempted vindication of Mr. Freeman, 77 — hopeless nature of his task, 80 — weakness of his cause, 81 — his perversion of statements, 84 — ignores the real charge, 85 — on the matter of the palisade, ib. — reliance on Wace's authority, 86 — misstatements on the existence of a 'fosse,' 86, 87 — suppresses allusions to the shield-wall, 88 — arguments against its existence, 90, 91 — on the evidence of the Bayeux Tapestry, 93 — adapts his facts to his requirements, ib. — new evidence of the 'lices,' 94-96 — misstatements on the position of the troops, 99.

Armstrong, Captain, as a spy, 245 — subsequent career, 246.

Arnold, Dr., the reviver of the Public Schools system, 372.

Asclepiodotus, Prefect, defeats Allectus, 337, 338.

Asquith, Rt. Hon. H. H., M.P., on the value of political espionage, 236.

Austria invaded by Napoleon, 423, 441.

Averroës, his Great Commentary, 500 — spread of his doctrines, ib.

B.

Bacon on the advantage of sea-power, 331.

Bastidas, R. de, his exploration westward, 28.

Baudin, Abbot of Bourgeuil, Poem of

- the Battle of Hastings, 73—ignores the existence of a 'palisade,' 75—tactics of the Norman infantry, ib.—onslaught by the English, 76.
- Bayeux Tapestry, its importance, 74.
- Bill, The Dishonoured, 552—policy of the Government, 554— inadequate time for discussion, 555—result of discussion under the Closure, 556, 564—defeat of Conservative amendments, 557—562—disfranchisement of Dublin University, 558—protection of civil servants, ib.—exclusion of illiterate voters, 559—treatment of landlords, ib.—Bills of Exchange, 560—system of Protection, 561—Bills of Attainder, ib.—Imperial supremacy, 562—importance of freedom in debate, 564—'in and out' scheme abandoned, 566—the financial proposals, 567—reticence of the Government, 568—deterioration of the House, 570—exceptional conditions of the Bill, 571—sent to the Lords, ib.—rejection of the second reading, 572—criticisms on the Lords' debate, ib.—impressiveness of the judgment, 573—attitude of the Gladstonian party, 575—indifference of the Liberal electorate, 576—measures to be passed, 579.
- Bookbinding, 178—absence of systematic historical sequence, 179—the first known specimens, 180—the Egyptian roll, ib.—the folded form, 181—the origin of artistic binding, ib.—costly style of the 'Byzantine coatings,' 182—precautions against the book-thief, ib.—privileges of monks, 183—princely patrons, 184, 201—various processes before production, 184, 185—changes in the character, 186—tooling in gold, 187—Thomaso Maioli's taste in decoration, ib.—Grolier's geometrical designs, 189—method of 'blocking,' 191—decline of the Italian art and rise of the French, ib.—meaning of devices, 192—progress in Germany, 193—prominent craftsmen, ib.—English work, 194—various fashions, 194—196—the fanfare and dentelle patterns, 197—names of famous binders, 197—199, 209—211—prices paid for good examples, 199—style of Nicolas Ferrar, 200—symptoms of decline in France, ib.—adoption of the 'doubleure,' 201—the Padeloup family, 202—the Derômes, ib.—introduction of the flat back, 203—destruction during the Revolution, ib.—successful binders, 204, 205—rapid advance in England, 205—the 'Harleian' bindings, ib.—covers emblematical of the contents, 206, 207—the work of refugees, 208—Roger Payne's work, 209.
- Bryce, The Rt. Hon. J., M.P., 'The American Commonwealth,' 297.
- Burdett, H. C., 'Hospitals and Asylums of the World,' 465—encyclopaedic character of his book, 466.
- Burke, Sir Bernard, 'The Peerage,' 396—repetition of fables, 397—need for revision and correction, ib.—absurd pedigrees, 397—400—'Delawarr,' 400—the Howards, 401—pedigree of the Duke of Fife, 402—creation of the Tweedmouth peerage, 404—on Scottish genealogy, ib.—the Barony of Ruthven, 407, 408—the Barony of Kingsale, 411—carelessness as to dates of creation, 414.
- Burton, Dr., Head Master of Winchester, 377—establishes a boarding-house for commoners, ib.
- Butt, Isaac, his political career, 280—scheme of Home Rule, 281.

C.

- Cabot, John, voyages under the English flag, 22—reaches Florida, ib.
- Cabral, P. A., expedition to the East Indies, 28—lands in Porto Seguro, ib.
- Camden Society, association of historical enthusiasts, 135.
- Carausius wrests Britain from the Romans, 337—murdered, ib.
- Chamberlain, The Rt. Hon. Joseph, M.P., his successful exposition of the Home Rule Bill, 286.
- Chereste, M. Aimé, 'La chute de l'Ancien Régime,' 212.
- Chicago, 297—the 7th largest city, 299—representative of the Industrial Era, ib.—cosmopolitan city, 300—population, 310—increased value of property, ib.—situation, 302—compared with Hellenic cities, 303.
- Churchill, Lord R., his political resurrection, 287.
- Coalitions, 525—in Queen Anne's reign, ib.—against Sir Robert Walpole, 526—529—of 1783 against Lord Shelburne, 529—533—hostility of the constituencies, 531—of 1852 against Mr. Disraeli, 533—539—motives and objects of the Whig party, 536, 537—the danger of sudden and superficial coalitions, 538—policy of the Peelites, ib.—'All the Talents,' 539—object of the Coalition, ib.—the Moderates of 1827, 540—of 1795, ib.—approximation of the Whigs to the Government, 541—result of the alliance, 542—of 1835-41, ib.—the notes of a legitimate Coalition, 544—period of Mr. Gladstone's second Administration, 545—evidence of approximation of opinion, 546—change in the party system, 547—the future Constitutional party, 548—unnatural alliance between Mr. Sexton and Mr. Gladstone, 549—danger of the present crisis, 549-551.

Cobden - Sanderson, T. J., champion of the emblematic school of binding, 206.

Colomb, Admiral, his comment on Nottingham's despatch, 348.

Columbus, Christopher, his ambition, 6—description of himself, 7—his clear and complete plan, 15—attempts to obtain the needful resources, 18-20—commissioned by Queen Isabella, 1492, 20—first voyage, ib.—third voyage in 1498, 21—misconception, ib.—failure and imprisonment, 24—last voyage, death, ib.—introduces the slave trade, 25—compared with other explorers, ib.—his embargo upon adventurers, 26.

Contarini, Gaspar, his reply to Pomponatius' book, 510.

Cornutus, the Stoic philosopher, 159—his reply to Nero, 160.

Courthope, Mr., 'Historic Peerage,' 386.

Cramond, Mr., on the pedigree of the Duke of Fife, 402.

Cundall, Mr. J., 'On Bookbindings,' 178.

D.

Dasent, J. R., 'Acts of the Privy Council of England,' 131—extract from the preface, 134.

Dicey, Prof. A. V., 'A Leap in the Dark,' 265—his concise and clear work, ib.—on the best result of Home Rule, 266—the character of the Irish people, ib.—proposes the Referendum system, 268—on the Act of the Union, 270—on the finding of the Parnell Commission, 272.

Duseuil, Abbé, his inlaid binding, 201.

E.

Elton, Chas. I., 'The Career of Columbus,' 1—his style, 5.

England, history of artistic bookbind-

ing in, 194—sea-power a condition of existence, 330—difference between command and sovereignty of the sea, 331—necessity for maintaining the Navy, 332—importance of retaining command of the sea, 334—unlimited power, 336—condition of the Navy, 357—position with France and Russia, 417—seizes the Danish fleet, 431.

Europe, the four great Powers, 417—condition of the Continent, 418—the Third Coalition, 422.

F.

Farrer, J. A., quotation from his work 'Paganism and Christianity,' 457.

Fiorentino, Prof., on Pomponatius, 498—review of Prof. Ferris' work, 499, note.

Fitzpatrick, W. J., on the political spies in Ireland, 241—description of Samuel Turner, 242—McNally, 244—Captain Armstrong, 245.

Fitzroy, Admiral, commands the Blue fleet, 333—his telegram to the Admiralty, ib.

Foster, Joseph, his 'Peerage,' 389—on Lord Tweedmouth's pedigree, 403—his determined honesty, 404.

France, eminence in the art of book-binding, 191—richness of ornamentation, 193—symptoms of decline, 200—subdivision of the land, 213—peasant proprietors, 214—suppression of the Parlements, 215—restoration, 219—condition of society, 216—desire for scientific knowledge, ib.—society of 'Economists,' 217—accession of Louis XVI., ib.—Turgot's policy, 218—the fall of Necker, 220—military regulation of 1781, ib.—the feudal reaction, 221—apparent prosperity under Calonne, 222—failure of the Assembly of Notables, ib.—resistance of the Parlement, 223—opposition to the Provincial Assemblies, 224, 225—conflicts between the Province of Béarn and the Government, 225-227—Brittany, 227-230—Dauphiny, 230—Franche Comté, 231—Languedoc, 232—Provence, ib.—department of secret political agents, 238.

Freeman, E. A., on the Bayeux Tapestry, 74—theory of the advance of the Normans, 76—peculiar use of authorities, 78—vigorous adaptations, 79—view of the 'fosse' disaster, ib.— theory of the 'palisade,' 82—fails to produce proofs, 83—use of the term shield-wall, 89—equipment of soldiers, 91—paraphrases Wace, 97—summary of the battle, 98—disposition of the English forces, 101, 102—unauthentic history, 103.

G.

G. E. C., 'Complete Peerage,' 386—character of his work, 387—the writs of summons, ib.—outspoken honesty, 388—on doubtful titles, 389—the origin of Peers, 391—on pretentious affectations in names and styles, ib.—the title of Warwick, 392—the purchase system, ib.—the practice of abeyance, 393—the Earldom of Mar, 406—on the imperfect knowledge of the Irish peerage, 410—the ranking of peers, 411—the Barony of Kingsale, 411-414.

Genoese discoveries, 16, 17.

Germany, progress of bookbinding in, 193.

Gipps, Sir G., Governor of New South Wales, 50.

Gladstone, The Rt. Hon. W. E., M.P., despatch on transportation, 54—aversion to compromise, 284—mode of conducting defence of his Home Rule Bill, 290—accepts the terms of the Nationalists, 292—his principle and practice, ib.—scheme to eject Mr. Disraeli, 534—influence over the Peelites, 538—unnatural alliance with Mr. Sexton, 549—opinion of 'A Leap in the Dark,' 552—credulity of his followers, 554—decision to apply the Closure, 555, 564—demands of the Radicals, 563—'in and out' project, 565—abandons the scheme, 566—defence of the Bill, 569—characteristics of his statesmanship, ib.—theory justifying his position, 574—declines to resign or dissolve, 575—speech at Edinburgh, 578—promises to his adherents, 579—ingenuity of his tactics, 580.

Gobineau, M. de, 'Sur l'Inégalité des Races humaines,' 297—his feudal prejudices, 300.

Gordon, The Hon. Sir A. See Stanmore.

Grolier, Jean, founder of the French school of binding, 188, 189.

H.

Harriase, Henry, 'The Discovery of America,' 1—characteristics of his book, 2—his theory of history, ib.— on the question of Columbus reaching Cathay, 21.

Hastings, The Battle of, 73—statements against the 'palisade,' 82, 83—result of enquiry, 83.

Hillebrandt, Prof., 'Vedische Mythologie,' 452—on the identification of Soma, ib.

Hojeda, A. de, his expedition, 27. See America.

Home Rule, disadvantages, 267—result of a Referendum vote, 269, 270—origin of the movement, 274—history of various agitations, 274-281.

Hospital, The Modern, 464—increase in the number, size, and organization, 465—ancient institutions, 467—foundation of Christian institutions, ib.—rights of the voluntary contributor, 468—appointment of Governors, ib.—injudicious distribution of letters, 469—admission of the sick, ib.—administration and number of governors, 470—the house committee, ib.—influence of medical men on the expenditure, 471—cost of in-patients' food, 472—extravagance in drugs and surgical appliances, ib.—suitable persons for free medical relief, 473, 478—the district of Marylebone, 474—misappropriation of charitable funds, 475—methods of selection, 476—registration fee, ib.—gratuitous medicine, 477—type of the Hospital habit, ib.—necessity for isolation, 479—illness in lodgings, 480—the honorary physician, 481—increasing demand for pay-beds and pay-wards, 482—thrifless method of treating legacies, 483—difficulty of obtaining subscriptions, 484—the Hospital Sunday Fund, 485—adoption of the uniform system of account-keeping, 486—example of varying rates, ib.—existence of special hospitals, 487—discovery of abuses in fever hospitals, 488—bad nursing in the Poor Law infirmaries, 489—endless multiplication of small 'specials,' 490—improvement in nursing, 491—increase in the number of nurses, ib.—grievances, 492—demand for the registration, ib.—suggestions for improvements, 493.

I.

Ireland, the character of the people, 266—supposed injuries, 282—demand for Home Rule, ib.

Italy, Art of bookbinding in, 187, 191.

J.

Juvenal, contrasted with Persius, 165—his literary merits, ib.—oratorical exercises, 166—unreal hatred of vice, 167—attacks on the dead, 168, 169—word-pictures, 170—irrelevance of his graphic tableaux, 171—defects arising from his brilliance, 172—indignation against patrician gladiators, 173—contempt for the Freedman, 174—and the Greeks, 175—sentiments regarding slaves, 176—sympathy with the poor, ib.

K.

Kirby, T. F., 'Annals of Winchester,' 360.

L.

Latin Satire, 152—its origin, ib.—the Fescennine masque, the source of Comedy, 153—the Atellane farce, ib.—the mimes, 154—development of the versified letter to the public, 155—satire untouched by the Greeks, ib.—Persius' literary position, 156—Juvenal, 165.

Le Caron, Major Henri, as political spy, 246—defence for taking the Fenian oaths, 247—perilous adventure at Nashville, 248—his wife, 249—services in the Fenian raid on Canada, 250—danger in obtaining documents, 251—his warning to Government, ib.

Le Gascon, 197—his work and patrons, 198.

Leon, Ponce de, exploration in search of the Island Bimini, 32.

Lesné, his poem on bookbinding, 190.

Liberals, The, disapproval of the Home Rule Bill, 286—attitude of inactivity, 289.

Lords, House of, attitude to the Home Rule Bill, 268—its rejection, 572.

Lotze on the influence of Christianity in the relations of life, 121, note.

Louis XVI., his accession, 217—dismisses Chancellor Maupeou, ib.—indolence and weakness, 219—restores the Parlements, ib.—popularity, 221.

Lowe, The Rt. Hon. Robert, M.P. See Sherbrooke, Viscount.

Lowe, Mrs., description of Sydney, 49.

M.

Macaulay, T. B., his opinion of Torrington, 340, 341.

Machyn, Henry, The Diary of, 135.

Macky, J., services and methods as spy, 240—dossier of Matthew Prior, 241.

Magalhaens, his proposal to Charles V., 33—makes the tour of the globe, 34, 35—killed at Zebu, 35.

Maioli, Thomaso, his exquisite taste in book decoration, 187—founder of the ornate school of binding in Italy, 188.

Markof, Count, accredited Minister Plenipotentiary to Paris, 420—conduct towards Napoleon, 421.

Martha, Mons. C., his veneration and awe of Persius, 157.

McKenna, J. McParlan, 253—undertakes to unravel the Molly Maguire Conspiracy, ib.—commences operations, 254—establishes himself in the 'Ancient Order of Hibernians,' 255—his death resolved on, 257—imminent danger and escape, 258—261—successful issue of his work, 261.

Moberly, Dr., Head Master of Winchester, 377.

'Molly Maguires,' secret society, 253—the reign of terror, ib.—description of the order, 256.

Montefiore, Lieut-Col., his evidence on the district of Marylebone, 474.

N.

Napoleon, his scheme for invading England, 335—fails to obtain the command of the sea, ib.—First Consul, 418—his foreign policy, ib.—treatment of Count Markof, 420—assumes the Imperial title, 422—abandons the invasion of England, 423—crushes Austria, ib.—protector of the Confederation of the Rhine, 424—defeats the Prussians, 425—at Warsaw, 426—interviews with Alexander, 428, 436—discussions with Tolstoi, 432—letter to Alexander, 434—victory of Wagram, 441—double negotiation for marriage, 441, 442—ill-health, 442.

Napoleon and Alexander, 416—discovery of letters between, ib.—meeting at Tilsit, 427—conference, 428—important conversations, 429—negotiations, 435—meeting at Erfurt, 436—438—final rupture, 442.

National Life and Character, 105—Roman jurisprudence, 120—influence of Christianity, ib.—effect of physical science, 121, 122—claims of the State, 123—invasion of educational liberty, 124—danger of retrogression.

- sion from Christianity, 126—relative position of religion and ethics, 127.
- Nationalists, The, probable defence of the agitation for Home Rule, 272—internal disputes, 288.
- New College, built by William of Wykeham, 364, 370.
- Nicolas, Sir H., 'Proceedings and Ordinances of the Privy Council of England,' 131—collapse of the undertaking, 133—'Synopsis of the Peerage,' 386—his principles, 388.
- Nifo, Augustino, the leading Averroist of Padua, 512—refutation of Pomponatius' book, 513.
- Nisard, Mons. D., his criticism of Persius, 157.

O.

- O'Connell on the Repeal of the Union, 274—rejection of his motion, 276—re-enters Parliament, ib.—resumes agitation for Home Rule, 277—mass meetings, 278—conviction, ib.—defection of the younger Home Rulers, 279.
- Opposition, The, decision to oppose the Repeal of the Union, 557—substantial success, 568.
- Owen, John, 'Skeptics of the Italian Renaissance,' 495—merits of his work, ib.—inferior essays, 496—on Bruno, ib.—Pomponatius and Vannini, 497—his inaccuracy, 499, note—extract of debate, 503.

P.

- Padua, University of, School of Philosophy, 500—disputes between the followers of Averroës and Aphrodisias, 502—the Bull of 1512, ib.
- Parkes, H., toyseller in Sydney, 53—his progressive handbill, 56.
- Parnell, C. S., M.P., leader of the Home Rule cause, 281.
- Payne, E. L., 'History of the New World,' 1—his theory of history, 3—literary style, 4, 5—wanting in poetic insight, 6.
- Payne, Roger, his intemperate habits, 208—value of his bindings, 209.
- Pearson, C. H., 'National Life and Character,' 105—object of his book, ib.—qualifications, 106—on European colonization in Africa, 107—in the Malay Archipelago, 108—possibilities for settlement in Central Asia, ib.—growth of the Chinese, 109—probable increase of the inferior races, ib.—effect of the cassation of emigration, 110—universal military service, 111—on the resources of China, 112—growth of urban population, ib.—degeneracy of townsmen, 113—increase of national debts, 114—influence of the modern State, 115—relaxation of the marriage tie, 116—effect on society, 117—his doctrinairism, 118—opinions influenced by French Radicalism, ib.—unethical tone, 119—misconception of Christianity, 129.

Peel, The Rt. Hon. Sir R., M.P., on the maintenance of the Union, 275.

Peerage, The, 386—G. E. O.'s 'Complete Peerage,' ib.—distinction between 'dormant' and 'in abeyance,' 394—the Mowbray descent, ib.—the question of heraldry, 395—the Howard augmentation, ib.—Burke's Peerage, 397—construction of a genuine pedigree, 400—forged pedigrees, 403—Scottish genealogies, 404—assumption of titles, 405—409—the 'Restitution Act' of 1885, 405—wrongful assumptions in England, 409—the Irish peerage, 410.

Persius, the Roman satirist, 156—his literary merit, 157—tortuousness of his style, 157—159—devotion to Cornutus, 160—association with Stoics, 160, 161—dislike of centurions, 162—religious thoughts and teaching, 163—the Christian tone in passages, 164—morality and craving after true liberty, ib.—compared with Juvenal, 165.

Pinzon, Vincent, expedition in 1499, 27—result of his voyage, 28.

Pitt, The Rt. Hon. Wm., M.P., coalition against, 532—dissolves Parliament, 533—invokes aid of the Whigs, 542.

Polo, Marco, guide-book to Asia, 16.

Pomponatius, 497. See Sceptic.

Privy Council under the Tudors, 131—its proceedings and ordinances, ib.—series of publications issued by Record Office since 1857, ib.—reasons for omissions in the Register, 136—entries relating to the English dominion in France, 137—surrender of Boulogne, ib.—loss of Calais, 138—universal peculation, ib.—deterioration of the Navy, 139, 140—piracy and political disaffection, 140—State trial of Lord Seymour, 141—process of impoverishing the Crown, ib.—financial procedure, 143—system of exaction, ib.—restrictions upon trade, 144—prohibition of the export of coin, ib.—privileges of the Steel-yard, 145—relations between England and Scotland, ib.—Wardens of the Marches, 146—condition of Ireland, 147—interference of the Council, ib.—amusements of the people, 148—religious changes, 148–151.

Prussia, alliance with Russia, 424—occupied by Napoleon, 425—rejects an armistice, 426—annihilated, 427.

R.

Record Office, publication of 'The Chronicles and Memorials of Great Britain and Ireland during the Middle Ages,' from the invasion of the Romans to the reign of Henry VIII., 131—Annual Reports of the Deputy-Keeper, 132.
'Rig-Veda,' Hymns of the, 443. See Vedic Mythology.
Ruetie, Macé, inventor of marbled paper, 199.

S.

Satire. See Latin Satire.
Sceptic of the Renaissance, A, 495—Pomponatius, founder of the new method, 497—his doctrines, 498—birth, 499—studies medicine, 500—Professor of Philosophy, ib.—disciple of Aphrodisias, 502—opponent of Achillini, 503—marriage, 505—invited to fill the chair of Philosophy at Bologna, ib.—'De Intensione' and 'De Reactione,' 506—'De Immortalitate,' ib.—reprinted, 521—repulsive style, 507—denial of immortality, ib.—profession of belief, 508—attack on his book, 509—refutations, 510, 513—'Apologia,' 511—'Defensorium,' 514—'De Nutritione,' ib.—completes two treatises, 515—'De Incantationibus,' 517—on Fate, 518—death, 519—protection of Bologna, ib.—tribute to his honour, 520—second edition of his works, ib.—notes of lectures, 521, 522—conservatism of his style, 523—portraits, 524, note.
Schaack, J., Captain of Police in Chicago, and anarchists' plots, 262.
Sea, The Command of the, 329—difference between sovereignty of the sea as formerly claimed by this country and command of the sea in a strategical sense, 330, 331—seapower an instrument of expansion, 330—strategic freedom of transit, 332—programme of the manoeuvres, 333—Red and Blue Admirals, ib.

—illustrations of the principle, 334—frustration of Napoleon's scheme, 335—defeat of the Armada, ib.—case of Carausius, 337–339—Battle of Beachy Head, 339—objective of a hostile fleet, 353—use of a blockade, 355.
Sherbrooke, Viscount, 42—birth and parents, ib.—personal appearance, 43—defective vision, ib.—at Winchester, 44—method of strengthening his memory, ib.—at University College, 45—supporters of the Union Society, ib.—his ode, 46—Fellowship and marriage, ib.—antipathy to reading for the Law, 47—verdict of the oculists, 48—sails for Sydney, ib.—defence of Knatchbull, 49—appointed Crown Member for Sydney, 50—resignation, 51—speech foreshadowing Imperial Federation, ib.—result of his labours, 52—founds the Atlas newspaper, ib.—struggle against transportation, 53–55—elected people's member, 56—reply to his 'unemployed constituents,' ib.—returns to England, 57—elected for Kidderminster, ib.—the fame of his bon mots, 58—charm of his conversation, 59—on the Government of India Bill, 60—Vice-President of the Board of Trade, 61—attack on Corporation dues, ib.—his system of sanitation, 61, 62—educational policy, ib.—vindication, 63—resignation, 64—opposition to the Reform Bill, 64, 65—articles in the Quarterly Review, 65–67—on the staff of the Times, 68—Member for the London University, ib.—dislike to Mr. Disraeli, 69—Chancellor of the Exchequer, ib.—preference for facts over theories, 70—elevation to the peerage, 71.
Soma, 452–458. See Vedic Mythology.
Spain, policy of colonization fails, 36.
Spencer, Herbert, 'The Principles of Ethics,' 297.
Spies, Political, 235—'the ethics of espionage,' 236—limitations in the use, 237—John Macky, 240—Samuel Turner, 242—McNally, 244—Captain Armstrong, 245—Major Le Caron, 246–252—McKenna, 253–262—Captain Schaack, 262—number in Southern Europe, 263.
Stanley, Lord, secession from the Whigs, 543—accession to the Conservative Cabinet of 1841, 544.
Stanmore, Lord (the Hon. Sir A. Gordon), 'The Earl of Aberdeen,' 525.

T.

Thies, C., Secretary of the Royal Free Hospital, 486—evidence of over-assessment, ib.

Tilsit, The Conference of, 428.

Torrington, Earl of, his rare fortitude and sense of duty, 340—foresees the designs of Louis XIV., 341—removal from the Admiralty, 342—commands the fleet, ib.—defence before the court-martial, 343—insufficiency of his force, 344—defensive strategy, 345—immortal despatch, 346—order from the Queen, 347—tactics of the battle, 349–351—decision to retreat, 351—strategical insight, 352.

Toscanelli, Paolo, view of reaching land of spices, 17—letter and map, 18.

Turgot, Minister of France, 217—his policy, 218—dismissal, 220.

Turner, Samuel, his first appearance as informer, 242—betrayal of his associates, 243—his death, 244.

U.

Ulster King-of-Arms, 396. See Burke.

Union, terms of the, 271—plea for the Repeal, 273.

Unionist Campaign, The, 265.

Unionists, The, controversial successes, 284—effect on the electorate, 285—persistent criticism, 292—future policy, 293, 295.

V.

Vanini, 497—an ardent Averroist, 517.

Vedic Mythology, 443—peculiar value, 444—two schools of interpreters, ib.—different names for the Sun, Dawn, and Moon, 445—chaotic phase, ib.—dependence on the observation of sun and moon, 446—the solar and lunar dualism, 447—Vāta or Avāta, ib.—legends of the Polynesians, 448, 449—movements of the moon, 449—reasons for the waxing and waning, 450, 460—the slow development, 451—the moon identified with Soma, 452, 455, 457—derivation of the word, 454—attempts to discover the plant, ib.—influence of the moon, 455—Soma, the invisible Lord of the moon, 456—number and various meanings, 457—different characters, 458—meaning of Ind-u, 459—the Moon the source of immortality, 461—importance of etymology, 462.

Vespucci, Amerigo, his voyages across the Atlantic, 29–31—his name given to the New World, 31.

W.

Wace, his version of the Battle of Hastings, 78—inconsistency, 97.

Walpole, Sir R., coalition against, 526–529.

Warton, Dr., Headmaster of Winchester, 382—rebellion of the boys, 383—resignation, ib.

Waynflete transferred to Eton, 376.

Weale, W. H. J., contributions to 'The Bookbinder,' 194.

Winchester College, 358—celebration of the quingentenary, ib.—religious ceremonies, ib.—secular festivities, 359—durability and beauty, 360—buildings, 364—accommodation for scholars, ib.—the Statutes, 370—Society, ib.—Warden, Founder's kin, 371—system of government, 372—daily life of the boys, 373—origin of the word 'remedy,' 374—roughness and cruelty, ib.—'Boy Tutors,' Prefects, 375—simplicity of life, ib.—good feeling towards Eton, 376—origin of 'Commoners,' ib.—Headmasters, 377, 383–385—first boarding-houses, 378—hospitality, ib.—presents, 379—Wardens, 380, 382—changes and visitations, 381—building of 'School,' 382—rebellion under Dr. Warton, 382.

Wykeham, William of, Founder of Winchester College, 360—obscurity of his birth and origin, 361—education, ib.—architectural works, 362—the 'Perpendicular' style, ib.—knowledge of details, 363—disposition of the buildings, 364—life as Chancellor and Prelate, 365—respected by all parties, ib.—fall from power, 366—upholder of the rights of the Church, 367—Bishop of Winchester, ib.—an 'indefatigable worker,' 368—resumes the building of the nave, ib.—appoints a suffragan, 369—death, 370—his statutes, ib.

END OF THE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-SEVENTH VOLUME.

